Horsing around with the new Fourth Plinth statue

Posted at 8:30 am, February 20, 2012 in Arts & Entertainment

The Time Out Hot List is back for another round of stellar recommendations. This week saddle up for the latest Fourth Plinth commission, 'Powerless Structures, Fig 101' by the Scandinavian duo Elmgreen & Dragset which will keep the resident pigeons company from February 23 – April 1 2013. Harking back to the age old tradition of regal equestrian statues, the sculpture depicts a golden child on a rocking horse, whose pose gently mimics that of a horseback hero. Look up next time you are passing through Trafalgar square.
