Dear Jennette

Section 67 (1) (b) appointments

I am writing to advise you of the two recent appointments I have made under section 67 (1) (b) of the GLA Act 1999.

I have established the role of Mayoral Advisor, Olympic and Paralympic Legacy, and have appointed Neale Coleman to this role with effect from 4 December 2012. He will also be the Deputy Chair of the London Legacy Development Corporation but this role will be unpaid. His terms and condition remain unchanged. He has been appointed on merit to his current role and is clearly the most appropriate person to undertake this role following on from the successes of the Olympic and Paralympic Games.

I have also established the role of Chief Economic Advisor and have appointed Gerard Lyons to this role with effect from 2 January 2013. He will be paid £127,200 and will work 29.6 hours per week. All other terms and conditions are the standard GLA terms. Gerard has been appointed on merit following an interview with my Chief of Staff and the Head of Paid Service. I am very pleased to have appointed such a successful and qualified individual to undertake this important role.

The job descriptions for both roles will be posted on the GLA website.

Yours ever,

Boris Johnson
Mayor of London
