Dear Emma,

Thank you for sharing with me the petition that was presented to the London Assembly (Plenary) meeting on 7 September about speeding on the A10 in Enfield.

I understand the concerns raised about dangerous driving and speeding in the area. I am determined to reduce road danger caused by speeding as part of the Vision Zero commitment to eliminate death and serious injury from London's roads. Speed is the single biggest contributory factor in fatal collisions in the capital, and levels of non-compliance remain too high.

I understand speeding is a major concern for people in the area. Transport for London (TfL) installed an average speed system on the A10 in March 2020, in addition to the spot speed cameras being used to tackle speeding in the area. TfL also introduced a 30mph speed limit on a section of the A10 in Enfield in February this year.

The A10 corridor is a priority for the jointly funded TfL/Metropolitan Police Service (MPS) Roads and Transport Policing Command, which continues to be deployed to the area to deal with a range of criminal and antisocial driving offences. Breaking the speed limit is illegal and dangerous, and TfL continues to work with the borough and police to ensure that roads are safe for everyone who lives and works in Enfield.

TfL is not routinely installing new speed cameras on its road network whilst it undertakes the essential work to increase the MPS's enforcement capacity and maximise the potential of the existing network, which is made up of over 700 fixed speed cameras across London and five average speed camera systems. If in the future TfL looks to expand its camera network, it will be working with London boroughs to identify the highest risk locations where a speed camera is an appropriate means of intervention, and this may well include locations where community concerns exist, such as the A10.

Thank you again for sharing your concerns with me. I have asked that TfL updates you on its plans to expand its safety camera network.
