Dear Shaun,

Thank you for sharing residents' concerns regarding this location with me.

I am committed to reducing road danger caused by speeding as part of my Vision Zero commitment to eliminate death and serious injury from our roads by 2041. Last year, speeding was a factor in over half of fatal road collisions in London, and these collisions were all preventable.

I value hearing from local residents about areas of concern, which helps Transport for London (TfL) to identify locations where there are safety concerns.

The A3220 Finborough Road has a 20mph speed limit, introduced as part of TfL's lowering speed limit programme. Enforcement of speeding offences is carried out by the Metropolitan Police Service.

I am pleased to say that TfL is currently developing a new scheme at the A3220 Finborough Road/A3218 Old Brompton Road junction. This scheme is intended to make the junction safer and easier to cross for people walking and cycling. Within the proposals, TfL is planning to provide signalised pedestrian crossings and cycle advanced stop lines on all arms of the junction and improve the quality of the public realm.

To ensure that the proposals provide a safe and effective balance between different road users, TfL is carrying out traffic modelling to understand how specific designs would impact traffic flow and safety. I have asked TfL to share further information on this scheme as it progresses and would encourage local people to engage with TfL given any future opportunities for people to provide feedback on proposals.

Yours sincerely,

Sir Sadiq Khan
Mayor of London
