Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for your request for information which the GLA received on 9 September. Your request has been dealt with under the Environmental Information Regulations (EIR) 2004.

You asked for;

'Whether the council has installed any electric vehicle charging points, where these are and when they were installed, if the council has removed any electric vehicle charging points, where they were removed from, when they were removed and why they were removed.'

Our response to your request is as follows:

The Greater London Authority has created a charge point map which shows the location of current charge points across London. Charge points are installed by a wide number of providers and the GLA is working with Transport for London, London Councils and the London Boroughs to create a central database, that will be open to all to use:

<https://maps.london.gov.uk/ev-chargepoints/>.

You may find the data that feeds into this map here (updates in data for the map will be posted here when available):

https://data.london.gov.uk/dataset/electric_vehicle_charging_site

Zapmap are an alternative private source for current charge point information here:

<https://www.zap-map.com/live/>

Transport for London (TfL) is the Mayor's transport authority and is responsible for implementing the Mayor's Transport Strategy. TfL may have some of the information that you seek, you may wish to send a further request to TfL at foi@tfl.gov.uk. However, I understand that your query may have been aimed at all London's local boroughs and they are best placed to answer your query in full.

If you have any further questions relating to this matter, please contact me, quoting the reference at the top of this letter.

Yours sincerely

Air Quality Senior Policy Officer

If you are unhappy with the way the GLA has handled your request, you may complain using the GLA's FOI complaints and internal review procedure, available at:
