

To the Planning team

When Labour were in power they closed all our hospitals. One of which had recently opened a new maternity unit. These all stood in extensive grounds, they are still building houses and apartments on these grounds. Most households own at least one car and require access to shopping, car parks, schools, utilities, GPs, NHS, waste collections etc. The south is full. Labour forgot immigrants breed. You will have to look north. Anyone in a position of power are guardians of your country.

So don't mess up.
