As a Greenwich resident The cost of £40,000 to pay for the advertising and promoting the Draft New London policy is considered excessive !
What does the £40,000 equal? How is the £40,000 going to be used !

General comment - extremely difficult to navigate the website, reset passwords and make comments unless tech savvy so this would reduce number of constituents / residents who could comment as well as reducing access to the policy. There must be an easier survey method to consider to enable more residents access ! I had to reset my password 3 times to even get into website !

If brownfield land is continued to be developed into housing , then how can flooding be reduced as water levels are rising , areas which used to be previously as flood plains or similarbuild housing on high risk flood areas is not viable nor safe for the residents , including nil home insurance ! Appalling short term plan!!

When is the development of a new similar Thames barrier going to be considered for building ... water levels rising , tidal surges rising and more frequent means that this is a very important structure which will be used in the near future not simply the end of the century !
