Subject: re Mayor's London Plan

Dear Team,

I'm glad the draft London Plan recognises the importance of green spaces, but policies need to be stronger to give the necessary protection. In particular:

there need to be stronger measures to enforce the Green Belt;

it should not be possible to swap designated Metropolitan Land; policies need to be stronger to reduce noise, light and air pollution, to increase biodiversity and to protect trees and hedges; policies need to be stronger to improve public transport and reduce the use of private cars;

excessive housing densities in new developments should be resisted, to protect the character of London's neighbourhoods.

Yours
