Hi

I own land in London which has I believe been incorrectly designated as Green Belt under the criteria in the NPPF. Further, the council missed their review of my land as part of a total review of Green Belt they carried out in 2016. This is currently with the LGO (who accepts there is a prima facie case for the council to answer) and is likely to end in judicial review.

I note the London Plan as a section for Green Belt and note the Mayor's unwillingness to de-designate but think this should only apply to land where the designation is correct in the first place. I am due to hear back from the LGO in the next 4 weeks but he has suggested I contact you to ensure my issue is known and addressed within the consultation period.

I have all the details of this but please let me know the best way to forward this issue. I registered on the MOL website to create an account but have not received a confirmation email hence sending this be email.

Regards
