Introduction and Background

Small Sites, Small Builders

The Greater London Authority's Small Sites, Small Builders programme aims to bring forward small publicly-owned plots of land for residential development by small-sized housebuilders, housing associations, community-led housing groups and other small-scale developing organisations.

As part of this programme, the London Borough of Hounslow is releasing a number of small sites to the market, specifically for sale to Registered Providers.

Description and Location

The site is located on the east end of Hartland Road in Isleworth, on a corner plot.

It is approximately 0.7 miles to the south east of Isleworth Station, which is served by regular South Western Railway trains to London Waterloo, Weybridge and Mortlake. The local bus network is accessible from nearby Twickenham Road and South Street.

The predominant use in the immediate locality is residential. The wider area is mixed use with a number of educational institutions and commercial properties along North Street and South Street.

In total, the site is approximately 0.184 acres (0.075 ha) in size and comprises five garages and hardstanding. The site is bound by a pedestrian pathway and grassed area to the north east with North Street beyond the amenity land. A row of terraced houses sits to the south of the site. An end of terrace house and its associated back garden border the site from the north west. The western side of the site adjoins an outdoor amenity space belonging to a block of flats.

Site Details

Planning

The site forms part of Isleworth Riverside Conservation Area. The characteristics of the surrounding locality will need to be given due consideration in any design proposal for the site.

Important to note

- The site is located in a Conservation Area and there are two trees of moderate quality near the site.
- The site has potential to contain archaeological remains. The Greater London Archaeological Advisory Service should be engaged early in the planning process.
- All neighbouring properties are residential and would need to be assessed for sunlight and daylight.
- There is a public sewer near the site.
- The site is subject to rights benefitting adjoining tenants and third parties.
- Parts of the site are designated as public amenity land, public footpath and adopted highway.
